Dear Mr. Jones:

This letter is being provided in response to your request for a statement of General Motors' policy in regard to the effect on our new vehicle limited warranty of the installation of "aftermarket" accessories.

The installation of "aftermarket" accessories on General Motors cars and trucks would not void the New Vehicle Limited Warranty. The New Vehicle Limited Warranty would not, however, cover the repair of any component failure caused by the aftermarket accessory or its installation. Nor would the New Vehicle Limited Warranty cover the aftermarket accessory.

Thank you for your inquiry, and please feel free to contact us if you have any further questions.

Very truly yours,

John R. House
